

The Chronicles of Pixie

Show Description:

In this show you will see the Pixie I carry inside, a personality that steps in or peeks out to self-sacrifice for her community, her kids and through her hardships.. Sometimes she's a strong fearless warrior and helps me get through those tough times and at times her sweetness pours out without me realizing it and envelopes everything with love. Pixie makes her strong enough to keep going and reach everyone she wants to help.

Every Pixie grows within you and flourishes at the right time, there is always a pixie waiting to step out and support you when you need her the most.

My pixie wears different pink wigs and has different personalities, who is your Pixie?
